

Media Advisory

Date sent: February 14, 2008
Date of event: February 16, 2008

Algonquin College hosts the 13th Annual Hot Food Competition

Algonquin College will host the 13th Annual Hot Food Competition, on Saturday, February 16, from 11:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., in the Restaurant International, on the College's Woodroffe Campus. Twenty-four of Algonquin's Culinary Management and Culinary Skills - Chef Training Program students will be competing to win a chance to represent the College at the Skills Canada - Ontario Competition taking place during the first week of May, in Kitchener, Ontario. The Hot Food Competition is based on points earned for creating individual dishes. Each student will create soups, appetizers, entrees and deserts that will be served in the College's Restaurant International and evaluated by chefs from the Ottawa Chapter of Toques Blanches, an international hospitality industry association.

Who: Dave Donaldson, Executive Dean, Faculty of Business and Hospitality, Algonquin College
Staff and faculty from Algonquin College's School of Hospitality and Tourism
Touques Blanches Chefs, Competition judges

What: Algonquin College hosts the 13th Annual Hot Food Competition

When: Saturday, February 16, 2008
11:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.
Best times: 11:30 a.m. – Creation of food for competition
3:00 p.m. – Awards ceremony

Where: Restaurant International
'H' Building
Algonquin College
1385 Woodroffe Avenue

-30-

Contact:
Andrew McKelvey
Communications Officer
Algonquin College
Office: (613) 727-4723 ext. 5450
Cell: (613) 220-7796

1385 Woodroffe Avenue

Ottawa, Ontario

Canada

K2G 1V8

Public Relations

and Communications

Department

Office: 613-727-4723

ext. 7664

Fax: 613-727-7610